The Who and "Who Are You"

The Who is a mythical British rock band that first formed in 1964. They were associated with the 1960s Mod (white) subculture, and were known for smashing their guitars and drums at the end of concerts. They symbolised the rebelliousness of London in the Swinging Sixties. As musicians, The Who are known for so-called "concept albums", long-playing records with a general theme. These include Tommy and Quadrophenia, which respectively also became a rock opera and film. The key members of the group over time have been Roger Daltrey (vocalist) Pete Townshend (guitarist), John Entwistle (bassist) and Keith Moon (drummer). The group split up in 1983, but have performed occasionally since then. "Who are you" and "Pinball Wizard" are two well-known songs.

Who are you?

Who, who, who, who?

...

I woke up in a Soho doorway

A policeman knew my name

He said, "You can go sleep at home tonight

If you can get up and walk away"

I staggered back to the underground

And the breeze blew back my hair

I remember throwin' punches around

And preachin' from my chair

Well, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

I really wanna know (who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

Tell me, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

'Cause I really wanna know (who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

I took the tube back out of town

Back to the Rollin' Pin

I felt a little like a dying clown

With a streak of Rin Tin Tin

I stretched back and I hiccupped

And looked back on my busy day

Eleven hours in the tin pan

God, there's got to be another way

Well, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

Oh, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

Come on and tell me, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who?)

Oh, who the fuck are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

Who are you?

(Ooh wa, ooh wa, ooh wa, ooh wa, ooh) ...

Who are you?

Who, who, who, who? ...

I really wanna know (who are you? Who, who, who, who?)...

Come on, tell me, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

'Cause I really wanna know (who are you? Who, who, who, who?)

I know there's a place you walked

Where love falls from the trees

My heart is like a broken cup

I only feel right on my knees

I spit out like a sewer hole

Yet still receive your kiss

How can I measure up to anyone now

After such a love as this?

Well, who are you? (Who are you? Who, who, who, who?) ...

Come on, tell me, who are you, you, you, ah, you? (Yeah)

Soho used to be a somewhat sleazy part of London, known for its nightclubs and prostitution, etc. Today, it all seems quite gentrified (i.e. affluent and well-kept)

To stagger: to walk or stand with difficulty, to totter

Throwing punches: hitting with your fists

To preach: to give a sermon, a lesson,

to give moral instruction

Tube: underground, or "subway" in US

English

Rolling pin: a round bar of wood used to press flour when making cakes or bread. Here it probably means going back to his wife, ready to hit him with a rolling pin.

Tin pan: here, a small concert hall, normally a pot to cook with
